Meet Haley:
odu.edu/innovators

What will your ODU story be?

Haley, a marine biology student, chose Old Dominion University for its hands-on learning opportunities and research efforts in Coastal Virginia. With the knowledge and skills Haley gained at ODU and through an internship with the Virginia Institute of Marine Science, she is well-prepared to work in marine conservation and educate youth.

More than 26% of the Old Dominion student body is affiliated with the U.S. military.

a place to beat home

ODU is home to more than 325 student organizations.

With students from 117 countries and throughout the United States, campus life is a rich and welcoming mix of nationalities, cultures, viewpoints and life experience. Old Dominion University has many intramural and club sports. It is a member of NCAA Division I with varsity athletics programs in 12 sports to participate in or cheer for.
